Tech Conference Kick-Off Webinar: Aligning Corporate ESG Initiatives to Market Expectations

Pre-Recorded Virtual Content

Join us as we kick-off the 2022 Tech conference with a virtual webinar. This will be the only virtual content available during the conference. Due to the importance of the message, this webinar is open all — both TECH conference attendees and non-attendees may participate. We do require you register in advance.

Webinar Topic: As ESG investing continues to grow, Financial Services firms, from Asset Management to Private Equity, are all stepping in to uncover the risks and opportunities of their investments. Learn how your internal systems, data, and technology play a role in the market's assessment of your company and how Digital Transformation could lead to higher quality information for all stakeholders.

- Matthew Sekol, Industry Executive, Capital Markets; Microsoft Corp.

Sponsored by Microsoft

3:00 p.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Workshop: Developing a Digital EHS & ESG Roadmap & Selecting the Right Tool for Excellence

Room: Sundance 6

As your company grows, efficiently managing data becomes more challenging. But, what's the best strategy for selecting the right tool(s) to meet organizational demands today and in the future?

Join this workshop to empower your EHS & ESG technology journey. Learn to set goals for meeting technology objectives so you can succeed with the best application for your needs.

During this interactive session, attendees will complete a workbook for their organization to utilize during the conference and beyond.

Get guidance and support for:

- Creating a digitization plan that aligns objectives, schedule and scope
- Validating relevant and thorough requirements (beyond functional) against proven solutions
- Avoiding common pitfalls and mistakes that waste effort and money
- Understanding market trends and risk (e.g., EGS buzzwords vs. reality; risk of M&A activity)
- Planning for implementation

- Presenter: Sameer Vyas, Founding Partner; Huco Consulting Inc.
- Zach Johnston, Director of Sales; Huco Consulting

All workshop sessions are only open to in-house corporate professionals and the sponsors of the workshops.

Workshop - Strategies for Enterprise Reporting: Leveraging Data from Disparate Systems

Room: Sundance 6

Because most companies rely on multiple data collection systems, challenges arise when EHS and Sustainability leaders need to integrate or compare data from different systems used by various departments or run across the enterprise.

This session features two case studies showing how EHS leaders were able to successfully extract, combine, analyze, and perform effective enterprise reporting — despite obstacles created by disparate systems and siloed data sets.

Attendees will learn best practices for project design, phased implementation, testing and deployment, and leave with an understanding of key data platform design and architecture choices.

- Patrick Hecht, Senior Project Manager, EHS-QS Digital Services Practice Lead; AECOM
- Rashmi Mantha, Senior Technical Advisor; AECOM Technical Services

All workshop sessions are only open to in-house corporate professionals and the sponsors of the workshops.

5:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.

Workshop Networking Reception

Room: Sundance 6 Corridor

The reception is only open to in-house corporate professionals and the sponsors of the workshops and reception.

Using an Integrated EMIS to deliver ESG Performance

Room: Ballroom C/D

Like many companies, Denbury was managing their EHS program with multiple homegrown solutions which limited their efficiency and ability to easily report on KPIs and trends. In reviewing EHS solutions, Denbury determined they needed a flexible system that could align with their workflow process and fit their data structure with a smooth legacy data migration, which is why they turned to Perillon. The solution has given Denbury the tools needed to easily align to their existing management process. During this session, attendees will learn about the easy transition between the old homegrown system and new cloud-based platform, and how it has provided Denbury management with the data needed to quickly review KPIs, trends, etc. Speakers will discuss how being able to capture this data — along with an intuitive ease of use experience — all assists in the future of ESG metrics as well.

- Randy Robichaux, Vice President – HSE, Regulatory, and Asset Integrity; Denbury Resources Inc.
- Moderator: John Niemoller, Chief Executive Officer; Perillon

10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.
